The Ministry of Agriculture, a wheat plan implementer, said that livestock inputs such as corn, which are used in spring and summer crops, are not advantageous in our country, because they want plenty of water, so the main part is imported, but there is a benefit in wheat and barley. Sugar is produced in sugar beet in the country every year, and now it is necessary to shift from spring to autumn to make the most use of winter rainfall.

According to Esfandiaripour, another self-sufficiency ground is the good seeding and certification of seed from 290 thousand tons in 1392 years to 476 thousand tons, as well as new implements and tractors, although 12 percent of the wheat cultivation level was reduced, but Increased production productivity, and prevented the country from importing $ 2.6 billion from previous years, and should allocate the equivalent of these figures for the production of tractors, combine harvesters and agricultural implements.

According to him, at the current rate for the farmer to buy a combine harvester is 15% and the government should help and covers part of the bank's profit so that the Iranian farmer can compete
